HEAL YOUR DOG WITH ENERGY

You want the best quality of life for your dog, and this seminar will help. It introduces you to the Tong Ren healing system for animals, an effective method to treat cancer and other serious illnesses. Blockage of energy causes such health problems, and different illnesses are caused by different blockages. This technique is gentle, non-invasive and promotes greater health and wellness. There is no mystery or religion associated with it. Veterinary medicine reveals that as a blockage builds it can be detected and felt physically. When we find the blockage, the healing rate increases drastically, and the healing range becomes wider. Tong Ren finds the neurological, vascular, hormonal, chemical and electrical roots to various ailments instead of just treating the problem where it occurs. It is easy and you can master it in one session.

SPORTS PHOTOGRAPHY FOR SOCCER MOMS AND DADS

Instead of sitting on your lawn chair chatting on your cell phone at your daughter/son's next little league game, why not make better use of your time and learn how to take great photos of little Billy or Betty actually playing the game. This is a course designed on how to help adults photograph youth or high school athletics. Subjects covered would include the use of proper photo equipment and game shooting strategies for all sports and seasons under all conditions. No prerequisites required, bring camera to first class.

PHOTOGRAPHING IN NATURE

Would you like to shoot better nature pictures and have hands-on fun with your camera? We'll begin in the classroom briefly reviewing your photos and learning some tried and true tips, and then head out to a scenic location to practice what we've learned. To the first class, bring five samples of your photography in .jpg on a CD (max. res. - 708H and 800W at 72 dpi), slide or 5x7/8x10 print formats (preferably scan prints as .jpg above). Please bring a sack lunch with a beverage. Requirements: A tripod and a digital or film camera with changeable shutter speed and lens aperture (f-stop) and your own transportation. Film camera users must provide their own film and processing. Course includes professional service and supply fees. No class on 10/10/09 and 10/24/09. Class meets only from 10am-12pm on 10/31/09.

Writing

SUCCESSFUL STRATEGIES TO PUBLISH YOUR BOOK

While good writing is important, promoting and marketing your work is imperative. It's essential to use winning strategies to publish your book. Gain the inside track on finding paying markets. Plan the steps to getting it in print: query letters, sample chapters and outline, marketing information, book proposals and manuscript format. Gain information on cover letters, serial rights, book agents and copyrights. The emphasis is on publishing, but the class includes some information on self-publishing.

WRITING STORIES FOR CHILDREN: THE PROCESS

Fern Schumer Chapman, 2004 Illinois Author of the Year, will present the first in her series of writing for children. Enjoy lively discussions about the process of writing: word games, mind exercises and constructive peer review that will inspire you to tell your own story. Learn to create characters that will fascinate youngsters and could possibly be parlayed into a series of books. You'll leave this workshop with a sense of how to create strong narrative and how to craft an ending that produces closure to the story, yet leaves readers wanting more. Fern's stories of personal triumph will teach you how to use your own experiences as a source for writing a successful novel.
