Your personal plan.

Whatever your goal, getting there starts with having a plan.

At your first advising session, you will leave with a plan for making academic progress and setting a career goal, if you don’t already have one. All through your studies, advisors and counselors will help you stay on track and update your plan. They’ll provide career counseling, and if transfer is your goal, help you achieve a smooth transfer.

www.clcillinois.edu/advising

Going to college is a commitment of time, energy and resources, but it is well worth it. According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, earnings are higher, and unemployment lower, the more education you get from high school to graduate school.

What students say:

“I really feel the professors care about you and want you to succeed.”

“You are taught the exact same material as at a four-year university.”

Backpack and Beyond Workshop Series

Learn more about CLC academic programs, support services and student life opportunities by attending this new workshop series at local churches and community agencies. The series format will include time for questions and discussion with CLC staff, faculty and students as well as one-on-one help in starting the process to become a student. Open to parents and high school students.

Workshop topics:

• College 101 – what is college like?
• Financial aid – how to get funding for college.
• Making a stress-free transition to college — tips for parents and students.

Visit www.clcillinois.edu/afamoutreach for workshop dates and times.

Welcome! Success awaits you at CLC. African-American Outreach

Grayslake Campus
19351 West Washington Street, Grayslake, Illinois 60030

Lakeshore Campus
33 North Genesee Street, Waukegan, Illinois 60085

Southlake Campus
1120 South Milwaukee Avenue, Vernon Hills, Illinois 60061

(847) 543-2000
www.clcillinois.edu
Welcome!
Success awaits you at CLC.

African-American Outreach
Your personal plan.
Whatever your goal, getting there starts with having a plan.
At your first advising session, you will leave with a plan for making academic progress and setting a career goal, if you don’t already have one. All through your studies, advisors and counselors will help you stay on track and update your plan. They’ll provide career counseling, and if transfer is your goal, help you achieve a smooth transfer.

www.clcillinois.edu/advising

Going to college is a commitment of time, energy and resources, but it is well worth it. According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, earnings are higher, and unemployment lower, the more education you get from high school to graduate school.

What students say:
“I really feel the professors care about you and want you to succeed.”
“You are taught the exact same material as at a four-year university.”

Backpack and Beyond Workshop Series
Learn more about CLC academic programs, support services and student life opportunities by attending this new workshop series at local churches and community agencies. The series format will include time for questions and discussion with CLC staff, faculty and students as well as one-on-one help in starting the process to become a student. Open to parents and high school students.

Workshop topics:
• College 101 – what is college like?
• Financial aid – how to get funding for college.
• Making a stress-free transition to college — tips for parents and students.

Visit www.clcillinois.edu/afamoutreach for workshop dates and times.
Your Pathway to Success

Want to get a real career and higher earnings? Want to find a way to earn an affordable bachelor’s degree? You can do either—or both—at CLC.

The college’s career preparation degree and certificate programs offer credentials you can take pride in and employers will respect. The transfer programs let you complete the first two years of a bachelor’s degree, well-prepared to transfer anywhere.

Whichver path you choose, you will learn in small classes taught by teaching-focused faculty who will both challenge and guide you to success.

A debt-free degree

The average cost of a bachelor’s degree at an Illinois public university is $13,462 and $31,231 at a private university. You can save big by completing two years of your degree at CLC and then transferring to a four-year college to finish your degree. You can save even more if you apply and qualify for financial aid at CLC. One in four CLC students receives some form of financial aid. You can, too.

www.clcillinois.edu/financialaid

Help with academics

When you face academic challenges, you are never left on your own at CLC. Attend a study skills workshop or study session through our Succeed at CLC program. See a tutor in the writing or math centers. Have a disability? Get accommodations through our Office for Students with Disabilities.

www.clcillinois.edu/cas

For high achievers

Are you a high-performing student? You’ll get even more out of your CLC education by applying for one or more of our three honors societies: Honors Scholars, Honors, Phi Theta Kappa. (You may even qualify for a scholarship.)

www.clcillinois.edu/honors

Internships

Think you know the career you want? Find out while you get resume-building skills in an internship. www.clcillinois.edu/cps

Get involved

CLC has more than 40 clubs including multicultural organizations like the Black Student Union and Men of Vision and Sister 2 Sister, local chapters of national organizations that promote personal and academic success, community service and civic engagement. www.clcillinois.edu/campus-life

Road trip!

Historically Black Colleges and Universities are a source of pride in the African-American community. They are a great transfer option for CLC students. You can learn about transferring to these schools during our annual spring tour to HBCUs. www.clcillinois.edu/afamoutreach

A diverse campus

40 percent of students are minorities, and our faculty and staff are very diverse, too. www.clcillinois.edu/diversity

From the African-American Outreach Committee

We know from our own experiences that minority students can face special challenges in going to college. Many of us came from backgrounds where money was tight at home and community schools under-resourced. Some of us were the first in our families to get an education beyond high school.

Through persistence we have earned our college degrees. Yes, we had to work hard, but many people at the colleges we attended helped and guided us. We want to repay the support we received by helping others. That’s why we’ve prepared this brochure. We believe in CLC and want everyone to know about all it offers to help students succeed.

Our purpose:

• Increase the enrollment, retention, completion and transfer rates of African-American students
• Uphold and honor the college’s values: learning, integrity, quality, service, accountability and diversity

Read our stories at www.clcillinois.edu/afamoutreach

Committee Members

Johanna Cotton-Wilson, campus operations coordinator, Lakeshore Campus
Zandra Genous-Tate, director, TRiO-Student Support Services
Tiffany Popper, executive director, JC Community Development Corporation (JCCD) alumna
Dr. Michelle Prector, education faculty
Dr. Sharmi Sanders-Ramne, director, Educational Talent Search
Gaylil Shakti, counselor
Jorge Torres, assistant director, Student Activities
Warren Thomas, student support and repatriation services coordinator
Martina Davis, financial aid specialist

A diverse campus

40 percent of students are minorities, and our faculty and staff are very diverse, too. www.clcillinois.edu/diversity

From the African-American Outreach Committee

We know from our own experiences that minority students can face special challenges in going to college. Many of us came from backgrounds where money was tight at home and community schools under-resourced. Some of us were the first in our families to get an education beyond high school.

Through persistence we have earned our college degrees. Yes, we had to work hard, but many people at the colleges we attended helped and guided us. We want to repay the support we received by helping others. That’s why we’ve prepared this brochure. We believe in CLC and want everyone to know about all it offers to help students succeed.

Our purpose:

• Increase the enrollment, retention, completion and transfer rates of African-American students
• Uphold and honor the college’s values: learning, integrity, quality, service, accountability and diversity

Read our stories at www.clcillinois.edu/afamoutreach

Committee Members

Johanna Cotton-Wilson, campus operations coordinator, Lakeshore Campus
Zandra Genous-Tate, director, TRiO-Student Support Services
Tiffany Popper, executive director, JC Community Development Corporation (JCCD) alumna
Dr. Michelle Prector, education faculty
Dr. Sharmi Sanders-Ramne, director, Educational Talent Search
Gaylil Shakti, counselor
Jorge Torres, assistant director, Student Activities
Warren Thomas, student support and repatriation services coordinator
Martina Davis, financial aid specialist

Hot tip: Use our new online tool for applying for scholarships: https://clcillinois.academicworks.com
Your Pathway to Success
Want to get a real career and higher earnings? Want to find a way to earn an affordable bachelor’s degree? You can do either—or both—at CLC.

The college’s career preparation degree and certificate programs offer credentials you can take pride in and employers will respect. The transfer programs let you complete the first two years of a bachelor’s degree, well-prepared to transfer anywhere.

Whichever path you choose, you will learn in small classes taught by teaching-focused faculty who will both challenge and guide you to success.

A debt-free degree
The average cost of a bachelor’s degree at an Illinois public university is $13,462 and $31,231 at a private university. You can save big by completing two years of your degree at CLC and then transferring to a four-year college to finish your degree. You can save even more if you apply and qualify for financial aid at CLC. One in four CLC students receives some form of financial aid. You can, too. www.clcillinois.edu/financialaid.

Help with academics
When you face academic challenges, you are never left on your own at CLC. Attend a study skills workshop or study session through our Succeed at CLC program. See a tutor in the writing or math centers. Have a disability? Get accommodations through our Office for Students with Disabilities. www.clcillinois.edu/cas.

For high achievers
Are you a high-performing student? You’ll get even more out of your CLC education by applying for one or more of our three honors societies: Honors Scholars, Honors, Phi Theta Kappa. (You may even qualify for a scholarship.) www.clcillinois.edu/honors.

Internships
Think you know the career you want? Find out while you get resume-building skills in an internship. www.clcillinois.edu/cps.

Get involved
CLC has more than 40 clubs including multicultural organizations like the Black Student Union and Man of Vision and Sister 2 Sister, local chapters of national organizations that promote personal and academic success, community service and civic engagement. www.clcillinois.edu/campus-life.

Road trip!
Historically Black Colleges and Universities are a source of pride in the African-American community. They are a great transfer option for CLC students. You can learn about transferring to these schools during our annual spring tour to HBCUs. www.clcillinois.edu/afamoutreach.

A diverse campus
40 percent of students are minorities, and our faculty and staff are very diverse, too. www.clcillinois.edu/diversity.

From the African-American Outreach Committee
We know from our own experiences that minority students can face special challenges in going to college. Many of us came from backgrounds where money was tight at home and community schools under-resourced. Some of us were the first in our families to get an education beyond high school. Through persistence we have earned our college degrees. Yes, we had to work hard, but many people at the colleges we attended helped and guided us. We want to repay the support we received by helping others. That’s why we’ve prepared this brochure. We believe in CLC and want everyone to know about all it offers to help students succeed.

Our purpose:
• Increase the enrollment, retention, completion and transfer rates of African-American students
• Uphold and honor the college’s values: learning, integrity, quality, service, accountability and diversity

Read our stories at www.clcillinois.edu/afamoutreach.

Committee Members
JoHaan Cotton-Wilson, campus operations coordinator, Lakeshore Campus
Zandra Genous-Tate, director, TRiO-Student Support Services
Tiffany Pepers, executive director, JC Community Development Corporation (JC alarmas)
Dr. Michelle Proctor, education faculty
Dr. Sharon Sanders-Pomme, director, Educational Talent Search
Gaylin Shahr, counselor
Jorge Terres, assistant director, Student Activities
Warren Thomas, student support and reactivation services coordinator
Montice Davis, financial aid specialist
Your personal plan.

Whatever your goal, getting there starts with having a plan. At your first advising session, you will leave with a plan for making academic progress and setting a career goal, if you don’t already have one. All through your studies, advisors and counselors will help you stay on track and update your plan. They’ll provide career counseling, and if transfer is your goal, help you achieve a smooth transfer.

www.clcillinois.edu/advising

Going to college is a commitment of time, energy and resources, but it is well worthwhile. According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, earnings are higher, and unemployment lower, the more education you get from high school to graduate school.

What students say:

“I really feel the professors care about you and want you to succeed.”

“You are taught the exact same material as at a four-year university.”

Backpack and Beyond Workshop Series

Learn more about CLC academic programs, support services and student life opportunities by attending this new workshop series at local churches and community agencies. The series format will include time for questions and discussion with CLC staff, faculty and students as well as one-on-one help in starting the process to become a student. Open to parents and high school students.

Workshop topics:

• College 101 – what is college like?
• Financial aid – how to get funding for college.
• Making a stress-free transition to college – tips for parents and students.

Visit www.clcillinois.edu/afamoutreach for workshop dates and times.